

Nazir Lone

Nazir Lone is Senior Clinical Lecturer in Critical Care at the University of Edinburgh and a Consultant in Critical Care at the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh. He trained in Respiratory Medicine and Critical Care in Newcastle and Edinburgh. His programme of research focuses on the longer term outcomes of patients surviving critical care and improving the quality of care for those who become critically ill. He has a particular research interest in epidemiological methods and the realising the full potential of routinely collected healthcare data. He is currently Deputy Director of Research for the Intensive Care Society, UK and promotes benchmarking and quality across Scottish Critical Care through his membership of the Scottish Intensive Care Society Audit Group Steering Group.